Came to market in scattering lots; owing to the ice on the railroad tracks only 2,300 were in the yards on Tuesday, and the uncertainty in regard to the arrival of other trains caused business to drag slowly; but with constant arrivals, last evening found 3,000 head in market, and this morning opened with offerings of 3,680 cattle at the Washington drove yards.

The prices of last week were sustained on Tuesday, but the market of to-day has been dull and rates are fully 50c per cwt. lower.
